

Sacramento River Cats Vs. Albuquerque Isotopes

Thursday, August 4th

Sometimes big brothers come in handy! These young River Cats fans try their luck with an OTS scratcher ticket in hopes of winning a fun glow prize.

Vince & Larry, the Crash Test Dummies, show their team spirit at the River Cats game in August. They sure know how to get the crowd pumped up for traffic safety!

Traffic safety becomes a family affair as this group works together at the OTS booth to learn important tips for staying safe on California's streets and highways.

Str-r-r-rike! Business, Transportation and Housing Agency Secretary Sunne Wright McPeak throws out the first pitch to kick off the exciting match-up between the Sacramento River Cats and the Albuquerque Isotopes.

Business, Transportation and Housing Agency Secretary Sunne Wright McPeak proudly shows off her first pitch baseball with support from fellow traffic safety colleagues: (l-r) Caltrans Deputy Director Randy Iwasaki, OTS Director Christopher J. Murphy and CHP Commissioner Mike Brown.

This traffic safety star wears his new glow necklace to remind everyone to always buckle up!

Vince and Larry know first hand the importance of wearing a seat belt every time they get into a vehicle. The "Click It or Ticket" campaign is a national effort to remind drivers and passengers alike to buckle up or risk getting fined.
